

Call for CNU Faculty Expertise

The Office of Communications and Public Relations maintains an online faculty experts list, and we need your participation. The CNU Faculty Experts Guide provides a listing of selected topics and faculty experts for use by news organizations and/or community groups seeking speakers or an authoritative source.

The guide identifies CNU faculty expertise on a variety of topics. Entries are listed by subject and linked to the faculty member contact information. Visit <http://experts.cnu.edu> for examples.

All members of the media will be encouraged to work through the Office of Communications and Public Relations for assistance in obtaining faculty interviews, expert sources or information about the people, programs and projects at CNU.

Please complete and return the form below to the Office of Communications and Public Relations, 3rd Floor, Admin Bldg., or email your information to experts@cnu.edu.
